

ABOUT OUR PHYSICIANS

We are proud that all of our physicians are Board Certified pediatricians and fellows of the American Academy of Pediatrics. While each brings to our practice a variety of experience and interests, all are parents, just like you!

Caren Glassman, M.D.

Dr. Glassman, a founder of the practice, is a Potomac native. Following her undergraduate studies at the University of Michigan she returned home for medical school at the George Washington University School of Medicine and pediatric residency training at Georgetown University Medical Center. Dr. Glassman has a special interest in early childhood development, and has won numerous “best of” awards and recognitions as a physician and businesswoman. Dr. Glassman and her husband Barry have two young boys, and reside in Potomac.

Amy Kaplan, M.D.

Dr. Kaplan, a founder of the practice, is a New Jersey Native. She received a B.A. in Human Biology at Stanford University and attended medical school at The George Washington University School of Medicine, where she was president of the American Medical Women’s Association. She completed her pediatrics residency at Children’s National Medical Center in Washington, D.C., and has been recognized as a “Top Doctor” numerous times. She and her husband Phil are parents of two girls and a boy, and they reside in Rockville.

Michelle Potter, M.D.

Dr. Potter grew up in Silver Spring, graduating from the George Washington University. After completing her medical education at the Medical College of Wisconsin, where she was awarded a scholarship for service to the school and community, she returned to the area for her residency at Children’s National Medical Center. Prior to joining Potomac Pediatrics she served as one of Kaiser Permanente’s “distinguished physicians”, and has been recognized as a “Top Doctor” in area publications. Dr. Potter, her husband Andrew, and their daughter reside in Kensington.

Megan Scheibel, M.D.

Dr. Scheibel, a native of the Cleveland area, graduated from the University of Notre Dame. She completed medical school at the Wright State University and her pediatrics residency at Loyola University in Chicago. Dr. Scheibel brings her special interest in early childhood development to Potomac Pediatrics, where she also has been recognized as a “Top Doctor”. She lives in Montgomery Village with her husband Bob and their three daughters.

Heather Davies, M.D.

Dr. Davies, a northeastern Pennsylvania native, graduated from Dickinson College with degrees in Biology and Religion. She completed her medical education at the Penn State University College of Medicine, where she served as class president. Following her pediatric residency at The Ohio State University Nationwide Children’s Hospital, Dr. Davies practiced in Westerville, Ohio, where she also served as a clinical instructor of pediatrics to medical students and residents from The Ohio State University and surrounding medical schools. She currently lives in Potomac with her husband, daughter and son.

Hari Sachs, M.D.

Dr. Sachs, a native of the Washington DC and Rockville areas, has provided direct patient care to the infants, children, and adolescents of Montgomery County for more than seventeen years, accumulating numerous awards and recognitions. Dr. Sachs is a Professor of Pediatrics at The George Washington University and Children’s National Medical Center. She has a special interest in developmental pediatrics, endocrinology and adolescent gynecology, and writes extensively for pediatric journals. Dr. Sachs and her husband Ira live in Rockville, where they have raise four sons.

Ashley Moss, M.D.

Dr. Moss is a native of Virginia who grew up in New York City. A graduate of Princeton University and the Medical College of Virginia, and she completed her pediatric residency at Cornell Medical Center-New York Presbyterian Hospital. Prior to joining Potomac Pediatrics, she served as pediatric hospitalist and emergency department physician, and has a special interest in international medicine. Recognized on multiple occasions as a “Best Doctor”, Dr. Moss lives in Chevy Chase with her husband, Dave, and their three children.

Jeremy Fishelberg, M.D.

Dr. Fishelberg is a native of New Jersey. He graduated with honors from The University of Michigan, after which he attended The Sackler School of Medicine-Tel Aviv University in Tel Aviv, Israel. Dr. Fishelberg completed his pediatric residency training at INOVA Fairfax Hospital for Children where he was honored as “Resident of the Year”. Prior to joining Potomac Pediatrics, he had been in a successful private practice in Fairfax, where he earned Washingtonian Top Doctor and Patient’s Choice recognition. Dr. Fishelberg resides in Potomac with his wife and their son and daughter.

Nichole Brathwaite-Dingle, M.D.

Dr. Brathwaite-Dingle is a native of Brooklyn, New York, who earned a Bachelor of Arts from The University of Pennsylvania. She attended Albert Einstein College of Medicine of Yeshiva University where she was a National Hispanic Scholarship Fund Scholar, a Carl Icahn Child Protection Fellow, and was the first recipient of the Montefiore Staff and Alumni prize. Dr. Brathwaite-Dingle completed her pediatric residency at Montefiore Medical Center, after which she was an attending pediatrician at St. Barnabas Hospital and in a private practice in Montgomery Village. She lives in North Potomac with her teenage daughter and son.

Shira Weiss, M.D.

Dr. Weiss, a native of the Philadelphia area, graduated from the University of Maryland with a Bachelors of Science in Microbiology. She attended medical school at Ben Gurion University of the Negev's Medical School for International Health in Beer-Sheva, Israel. Dr. Weiss completed her pediatric residency at Sinai Hospital in Baltimore and was selected to serve as chief resident for an additional year. Prior to joining us she practiced pediatric hospital medicine at a local hospital. Dr. Weiss resides in Brookeville with her husband, son and daughter.

Michelle Place, CRNP-P

Michelle Place, is a native of the DC area. She was born at the INOVA Fairfax hospital and grew up in Bethesda, MD. She received a BA in Biology from the College of Notre Dame of Maryland and a BS in Nursing from the Catholic University of America in DC. While working as an RN at Children's National Medical Center she returned to Catholic University and was awarded her Master's degree in Nursing/Pediatric nurse practitioner degree. Prior to joining Potomac Pediatrics she worked as a nurse practitioner at The Hospital for Sick Children in Washington DC and at Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago, IL. She currently resides in Bethesda with her husband and four children.

POTOMAC PEDIATRICS

15204 Omega Drive Suite 100
Rockville, MD 20850
Phone: 301-279-6750

Website: www.potomacpediatrics.com